
THURSDAY, MARCH 10, 1836.

The Convention met pursuant to adjournment.

On motion of Mr. Rusk,

Resolved, That the late Governor Henry Smith, the late Lieutenant Governor Robertson, the late Council, the late Treasurer, the late Auditor and Comptroller of public accounts, be requested to deliver to the house, all the books, papers, journals, correspondence, contracts, orders, laws, and all other papers connected with or relating to their several offices.

Resolved, That the secretary of the house make out, and hand forthwith, to each of the before mentioned individuals, each a copy of this resolution, and request of them the books and papers referred to.

And the question being taken thereon, it was decided in the affirmative.

Mr. Gains, chairman of the committee appointed to examine and report upon the subject of the future disposition of the Mexican prisoners, made the following report:

That all commissioned officers and chaplains in the Mexican army, who are now are may be taken prisoners, shall be held in close confinement, and shall be responsible to pay for their support; they shall be from time to time subject to be exchanged according to the usages of war, or as this government may hereafter think proper.

All non-commissioned officers and privates shall be distributed amongst the inhabitants of Texas, under such rules as this government may adopt, always being subject to be exchanged and dealt with according to the rules of war; that the said prisoners shall be compelled to do bodily labor for their support, and that said inhabitants will be compelled to treat said prisoners as Mexican hired servants.

Should any of said prisoners desert, they shall be tried by a court martial and punished accordingly.

On motion of Mr. Gains, the report was received.

Mr. Hardeman called for the resolution laid on the table, proposing to lay all subject matter on the table, not connected with the constitution, until the adoption of that instrument, and the house sustained the call.

Whereupon, Mr. Rusk offered the following amendment: “Unless taken up by two thirds of the house, without debate,” which was accepted by the introducer of the resolution.

And the question being taken on the adoption of the resolution with the amendment, it was decided in the affirmative.

The president laid before the Convention, the letter of Mr. G. B. Franks; and

(875)
On motion of Mr. Childress, the same was referred to the committee on military affairs.

On motion of Mr. Potter,

Resolved, That all persons (slaves and Indians excepted) residing in Texas, on the day of the declaration of independence, shall be considered as citizens of the republic, and entitled to all the privileges as such. The citizens of Texas shall be entitled to, and are hereby confirmed in their lands, in the following manner and proportions, viz: every man of family shall be entitled to a league and a labor of land, and every single man, of the age of twenty-one years, shall be entitled to a third of a league of land; which several portions of land, the persons entitled to the same, shall be privileged to locate on any vacant lands; and all citizens now settled in Texas, shall, in the location of their lands, be entitled to include their settlement in preference over all other persons or claims, whatever; except those from whom such settler may have received his settlement, by rent or lease; and it shall not be obligatory on the settler, to live on his land, but he shall have the lines plainly marked.

And, whereas, there is good reason to believe that many fraudulent grants of land, or grants the condition of which have never been complied with, have been located in Texas; therefore,

Be it ordained, that the first congress which shall convene under the constitution, shall establish such tribunals as it in their wisdom may think proper to adjudicate and determine, without the right of appeal or future litigation, the validity of the above mentioned grants; provided, however, that in no case whatsoever, shall any of the above mentioned grants interfere with the actual settler, in the occupancy of the land, or being a citizen of Texas, may rightfully claim it as his head right, under this constitution, or the colonization laws of the Mexican government.

Provided, that nothing herein contained, shall deprive any citizen of Texas of rights already vested by the laws of the land. It shall be the duty of congress to provide for the volunteers who have so faithfully served Texas in the field, or who may hereafter serve against the enemy, by setting apart so much of the most valuable portions of the public lands, as will answer that purpose. In the event of the death, without will, of any person entitled to land under the constitution, or the colonization laws of Mexico, his children, or next of kin, shall inherit his land, each and every person holding or claiming land in Texas, either in their own name or by agent, within six months from the date of the declaration of independence, become citizens of this republic; and reside during the war, within the limits of Texas, unless absent on public business, or on leave according to law; and in every case of failure to comply with this requirement, the individual so failing shall forfeit to the republic all interest, right and title, in and to, all lands within the limits of Texas, whether claimed or owned in their own name, or by agent; nor shall any alien ever hold land within the limits of Texas, whether claimed or owned in their own name, or by agent.

On motion of Mr. Menifee, the preamble and proviso was laid on the table.

Mr. Bunton, chairman of the committee appointed to inquire into, and report upon, the condition of the army, number of officers, and privates, &c., made the following report:
