Law Courses Taught by Dr. Samuel Peterson:
1905-1906

JUNIOR YEAR

Fall Term.
Elementary Criminal Law: 2 hours and 1 quiz a week.
Text-book: Knowlton’s Cases on Criminal Law.
Adjunct Professor PETERSON.

SENIOR YEAR

Winter Term.
Private Corporations: 6 hours and 1 quiz a week.
Adjunct Professor PETERSON.

Spring Term.
Conflict of Laws: 3 hours and 1 quiz a week.
Text-book: ————
Adjunct Professor PETERSON.

International Law: 2 ½ hours a week.
Text-book: Scott’s Cases on International Law.
Adjunct Professor PETERSON.

Tuesday January 9, 1906
To Univ. Worked in law lib. At 12 to class. After dinner studied law. At 3 to Univ. attended Faculty Meeting. Dean Miller told me that Seniors were kicking about the amount of work in Priv. Corp. + were neglecting other courses; that it took the best men 4 + 5 hours to get the lessons. E.T. Miller also told me he heard Seniors talking about it...
Law Courses Taught by Dr. Samuel Peterson: 1906-1907

JUNIOR YEAR

Fall Term.
Elementary Criminal Law: 3 hours and 1 quiz a week.
Text-book: To be announced later.
Adjunct Professor Peterson.

Spring Term.
Torts: 3 hours and 1 quiz a week.
Text-book: To be announced later.
Adjunct Professor Peterson.

MIDDLE YEAR

Fall Term.
Suretyship: 2 hours and 1 quiz a week.
Text-book:
Adjunct Professor Peterson.

Senior Year

Winter Term.
Private Corporations: 6 hours and 1 quiz a week.
Adjunct Professor Peterson.

Spring Term.
Conflict of Laws: 3 hours and 1 quiz a week.
Text-book: To be announced later.
Adjunct Professor Peterson.

International Law: 2 1/2 hours a week.
Text-book: Scott’s Cases on International Law.
Adjunct Professor Peterson.

Monday, April 1, 1907

To Univ. + studied. At 10 to Conflict of Laws, but some Junior or Middle had locked the door. I went into the Library + read paper; Leslie went after janitor; finally I was about to assign next lesson in hall + let lecture go when janitor came, + opened door; about half of class was still around, + others came soon after; [I didn’t show any worry or displeasure at all.] At 11 to Gov’t class...