Dear Sir:

In receipt of your letter of July 20, 1987, I am not at all satisfied with your, or should I say your secretary's response to my letter. Sir, I had already contacted the Texas Education Agency prior to sending a letter to you. They had directed me to your office. Now you direct me to their office. I realize that your time is valuable but you must realize the importance of the issue that had readily come upon me and many like me in this area. Your ruling Civil Action No. 5281 in 1970 in Del Rio was I am sure for the extreme benefit of those concerned. But sir your ruling in 1987 in WEST TEXAS and other areas like this is not applicable at this time. We do not have and have not had discriminatory problems here.

You sir I am sure are not fully aware of the situation in this community. I strongly urge you at this time to take a closer look at this area. I am fairly sure at which time you may feel that an amended version of your law can be better put to use.

I sir am no politician and do not claim to be. I am just a concerned parent that does not want to see my 5 year old daughter who is to be in kindergarden this year have to leave her home at 7:00 A.M. and not be back home before 5:00 P.M. that evening. Not to mention the difference in being 5 miles from the Denver City School and being 15 miles from the Plains School in which my daughter would have to go if your ruling is not amended.

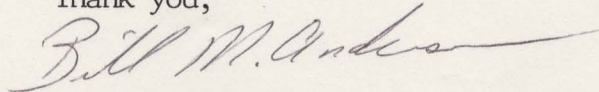

I think you will find most rural school districts are not really suited for your action. In all reality it is the rural citizens that are being discriminated against, not the children. Sir it ought to be of the most importance to put the childrens education first and all bureaucracy behind.

I do not feel that convinence should be denied right as if I were being ordered to do what ever the juducal system deems best. I sir feel that the edicational rights of my children be left up to me as the constitution states: The right to educate as we seem fit.

In closing I remind you that as a taxpayer, I do pay for my childrens education, so I ought to be able to have a say as to where I wany my children to be educated.

Thank you,
