Morrow, Wright C. (Wright Chalfant), 1858-1942.

Wright C. Morrow papers, 1922-1942, bulk 1922.
0.5 linear ft. (1 box).

Morrow was first elected to the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals in 1916, and served as the court's presiding judge from his appointment in 1921 until his retirement in 1939. A native of Kentucky, Morrow began practicing law in Hillsboro, Tex., in 1887 with his brother-in-law B. D. Tarlton, later a professor of law at the University of Texas. He was elected district judge in Hill County in 1897, and served as state senator from 1912 to 1916.

Correspondence between Morrow and his political allies, endorsements from local bar associations, newspaper clippings, mailing lists, and campaign literature relate mainly to Morrow's successful 1922 Democratic primary campaign for re-election to the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals against Judge A. J. Harper of El Paso, whose candidacy was supported by the Ku Klux Klan. A few of Harper's campaign materials are included. The materials document the campaign techniques used in 1922 for a statewide judicial election in Texas, and reflect the attitudes of lawyers, judges and citizens toward the judges of the Court of Criminal Appeals. Some items describes the Ku Klux Klan's participation in Texas electoral politics. Included are sizable files on Morrow's campaign in Bexar, Dallas, DeWitt, El Paso and Erath Counties. There is one file of personal correspondence and Christmas cards, 1931-1942.

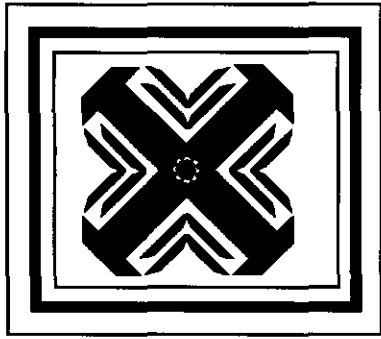

Campaign materials are arranged alphabetically by county, Andrews-Kleberg, with several counties missing.
