TEXAS LAW REVIEW RECORDS

Texas Law Review Records, 1922-1981.

Extent: 5 in. (1 box).

Texas Law Review. The Texas Law Review was founded in 1922 as a non-profit corporation to serve as forum for the Texas bar; to publish research and writing by students and faculty of the University of Texas School of Law, and to serve a bridge between the Law School and the legal profession. It published its first issue in December 1922. Professor Leon Green was the primary moving force behind the founding of the journal, which was modeled on the Harvard Law Review. A board of directors governs the business affairs of the journal, which is edited by student editors selected on a merit system.

Scope and Content: The minutes and financial record book (1922-1972) includes documents on the founding of the Texas Law Review. Also present are board of trustees minutes (1972-1981), and records relating to incorporation (1967, 1972).

Finding aid: A detailed finding aid to the collection is available in the Tarlton Library's Rare Book Reading Room.

Related records: Materials relating to the Texas Law Review's founding, history and ongoing administration can be found in the Leon Green Papers, Ira P. Hildebrand Papers, Charles T. McCormick Papers, W. Page Keeton Papers, Helen Hargrave Papers, Law School Subject Vertical Files, and the School of Law Records.
